

MAKE MUSIC PASADENA NOW ACCEPTING MUSICIAN SUBMISSIONS
*WEST COAST'S LARGEST FREE MUSIC FESTIVAL
RETURNS ON SATURDAY, JUNE 11, 2016*

PASADENA, CALIF. (February 2016) - Make Music Pasadena (MMP) is now accepting musician submissions through Sonicbids for a chance to perform at the West Coast's largest free music festival. Taking place on Saturday, June 11, 2016, the 9th edition of this event is poised for its biggest year yet, with over 150 free performances and an estimated attendance of more than 50,000.

Make Music Pasadena is in search of the best independent artists to perform at the festival. All interested musicians from all musical genres, are encouraged to apply for an opportunity to play at Make Music Pasadena. Six artists will be selected to perform at a main stage at this year's festival, with two of those also receiving a $400 cash prize. With an expected attendance of 50,000 people, this is a great gig for any performing artist to showcase their talent.

Interested performers can submit on Sonicbids, the leading matchmaking site for bands and music promoters. For more information on how to submit your music, please visit www.sonicbids.com/make-music-pasadena-2016

Deadline for submission: April 27, 2016

About Make Music Pasadena

Make Music Pasadena is an all-day all-ages annual music festival, organized by Old Pasadena Management District and Playhouse District Association. This free event is held at 5 main stages and 30+ additional venues throughout downtown Pasadena, California, just 15 minutes northeast of Los Angeles. The musical lineup will total more than 150 bands, featuring an eclectic mix of diverse music, including seasoned performers and emerging homegrown talent, coming together for one day to celebrate the spirit of music.
